

Jasmine Weiler is passionate about seeing the Kingdom of Heaven advanced in the earth through authentic revival in the Church and reformation in culture. While Jasmine has spent the last ten years traveling the nation as a speaker, worship leader, singer-songwriter and creatives' coach, she currently serves as the Worship Pastor at Mercy Culture Church, based in Fort Worth, TX.

In 2010, Jasmine began her career in music as a singer-songwriter. After being taught to play the guitar supernaturally, she traveled the nation bringing songs about life and declarations of hope to coffee shops, universities, music venues, stadiums, churches, etc.. Jasmine has become known for sharing raw, moving songs that provoke people to look inward. Through her music, she found a way to provide hope for people in the midst of hard realities. As she experienced seeing the Kingdom of Heaven advanced through her music, she began training up other creatives to do the same through their creative expressions.

In 2018, Jasmine started a community of creatives called AXL Creative Co.. The vision of AXL is to equip and empower sons and daughters to advance the Kingdom of Heaven through their creative expressions. AXL focuses on raising up cultural revolutionaries who are unafraid to move against the culture as voices of purity and hope to this generation and the generations to come. Currently, this online and in-person community is full of hundreds of singer-songwriters, dancers, painters, designers, videographers and more who are also passionate about seeing reformation in culture.
